

SAJOG

December 2019
Vol. 25 No. 3

THE SOUTH AFRICAN JOURNAL OF OBSTETRICS AND GYNAECOLOGY

- A possible new dawn for contraception
- A missed syndrome in chronic pelvic pain
- Burnout among obstetrics and gynaecology registrars
- Postnatal depressive features in mothers of neonates admitted to a neonatal unit
- Evaluating the decision-to-delivery interval in emergency caesarean sections
- Contraceptive methods among young married women in rural Burkina Faso

	Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	May	June	July
Pseudotumor Cerebrum patients managed according to standards (%)	29	49	40	47	41	51	67
Haemorrhage patients managed according to standards (%)	28	33	26	20	29	30	61
Sepsis patients managed according to standards (%)	0	27	33	9	9	10	71

