

SAJOG

November 2020
Vol. 26 No. 2

THE SOUTH AFRICAN JOURNAL OF OBSTETRICS AND GYNAECOLOGY

- Use of cerebroplacental ratio to predict adverse outcomes in resource-limited setting
- Placental pathology in public v. private practice in Gauteng Province, SA
- Impact of manual uterine displacement and left lateral tilt on stroke volume in advanced pregnancy
- Adverse perinatal outcomes after ingestion of herbal medication during pregnancy
- Ruptured renal artery aneurysm in pregnancy
- Beckwith-Wiedeman syndrome associated with congenital cytomegalovirus

	Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	May	June	July
Pseudomonas patients managed according to standards (%)	29	49	40	47	41	51	67
Haemorrhage patients managed according to standards (%)	28	33	26	20	29	30	61
Sepsis patients managed according to standards (%)	0	27	33	9	9	10	71

